New York, November 26.—The crratic course of the money market to-day was reflected in operations in stocks. although quotations were steadier than yesterday. Call money, opening at 9 per cent, quickly advanced to 12 per cent, and renewals were made at 11 per cent, as compared with 6 per cent yesterday. After touching the high point, the rate declined steadily until before the close money was offered at 3 per cent.

There was some further calling in of loans, owing to the demand of interior banks, and it was suggested also that "window dressing" for the expected calling on the comptroller for a statement of the condition of national banks, played a part in the action of the money market. The more urgent demands for funds were quickly satisfied however, and during the last part of the day call loans were in small request. Time rates hardened in sympathy with the movement of call money.

The stock market was relieved today of pressure from abroad. On more reassuaing news of the European political situation the foreign markets improved, and there was a sympathetic advance here at the opening.

Interest was centred largely on the money market. With the easing of money, the market steadled, and toward the close prices rose to the highest point or more.

The animance of higher rates for more was reflected in the foreign extending the last part of the day. A number of the standard issues made net gains of a point or more.

The influence of higher rates for money was reflected in the foreign exchange market, and exchange rates dropped below the recent low figures to the bottom quotations for about two years.
